

Stay up to date with the exciting things happening at Eden!

Looking across this last year, we at Eden Theological Seminary have been taking stock of the provision of God. Hearing Biblical echoes of the wilderness wandering, we have noted common threads of fear, risk, trust, sharing, community, and abundance. It's been a remarkable year, and through it all we can shout with thanks that God's grace has been sufficient. We hope you will take time to be inspired by Eden's Annual report here and see how God is working in our midst.

Thank you for being a part of the Eden community. We look forward to creating a stronger common good for the future with you!

Eden faculty welcome Doctor of Ministry students for an intensive week-long retreat. The faculty and students are gathering this week to worship together, explore how their ministry settings can be a place for exploration and research, build community, and more. A shout out goes to all starting the new year off with an intensive week of reflection!

All alumni with an affinity for Eden's International Cross-Cultural Travel Seminars are invited to join a gathering virtually via Zoom, on January 13th at 5:30 pm CT. Connect with alumni and faculty/staff who have participated in Eden's international cross-cultural travel seminars in this co-learning space and place of mutual support. Click here to register!

Students, pastors, laypersons and seekers from all denominations and walks of life are welcome to join the next LIFE@Eden course, "Non-Profit/Church Storytelling for Change," on January 14th and 15th. This interactive, online workshop, will explore the core concepts and structure of story, the framing of stories, viewpoints, narrative arcs and archetypes, and why each of these matter.
