

Stay up to date with what's happening at Eden!

Eden supports our students' passion for ministry and work toward the common good. Degree seeking, non-degree seeking, diverse community learners and the general public alike, find the support they need to go out - and lift up the community. Keep reading to learn about opportunities to join the Eden community of learners!

Many "thanks" to area congregations that hosted faculty and staff preachers for "UCC Seminary Sunday" on February 25th! We celebrate these congregations - and so many others - that support theological education. It was a day to celebrate the impactful ministries of these congregations. The Center for Lived Faith and Organizing at Eden offers a "Certificate for Organizing and Social Transformation." "Organizing Eco-Justice Transformations," takes place this Saturday, March 2nd! Join eco-organizers as they train to mobilize communities, denominations, congregations, and individuals to protect, restore, and rightly share God's creations. And mark your calendar for the April 13th, online, all-Spanish workshop, "The Power of Intergenerational Organizing." Click here for details about these, and other upcoming courses through the "CFLO."

Come for Spring Convocation, and then stay for "Camping on the Quad: Awe and Aesthetics of Nature, April 5th, 6th, and 7th!"

"Camping on the Quad" aims to center the experience and emotion of awe and engage and explore beyond the boundaries that separate humanity from the beautiful and profane expressions of God in the world. This immersive and experiential opportunity to practice openness, curiosity, awareness, and theological wondering is for all ages. Bring your family, friends, and your whole congregation! Click here for details and registration.

Join us for the "Healthy Conflict for Strong Churches" seminar happening April 26th. Join in the conversation as we look at CONFLICT from a Biblical lens, as well as a systemic lens. This online-only seminar, offers practical tools that participants can use in their church to create a culture where conflict does not harm but, in fact, is a productive tool for transformation.
